Guwahati International Marathon 2027: stay plan

The race is on 7 February 2027, inside the fog season. Here is the plan that avoids the busiest part of the morning.

7 February 2027

race day

- Confirmed date
- Race morning sits in the middle of the December-to-mid-February fog window

Why the night before matters more than race kit

- Race mornings start before dawn, which is peak low-visibility hour at the airport and on the approach roads.
- Staying on the airport side removes one city crossing from the plan.

What the data says about race morning

- Across December, January and February, 49.7% of LGBI reports showed visibility below 1.5 miles (2.4 km).
- Low visibility concentrates between 4 AM and 9 AM, peaking at 6 AM.
- If race morning is foggy, add 15 to 20 minutes to any drive.

Race-week checklist

- Book before January; marathon weekend fills the airport-side hotels first.
- Ask for an early breakfast or a packed one.
- Free luggage storage if you travel on to Shillong or Kaziranga afterwards.
- Free late checkout up to 3 hours for the afternoon nap.

Hotel Shiny Grand
